Use of the New World Communications LLC website

When viewing content and/or making selection(s) for a product or service, you must do your due diligence. It is your responsibility to understand how this privacy policy can protect your digital rights when accessing the NWC, LLC website.

In some areas, our website displays embedded video content hosted by YouTube (a subsidiary of Google LLC) and utilizes promoted video metrics to measure user engagement and optimize our marketing campaigns.

- Information Collected via Video: When you view pages on our site that contain embedded videos, or when you interact with or play a video, YouTube and Google may collect automated tracking data. This includes your IP address, device specifications, browser data, watch duration, and specific video interactions.
- Cross-Profile Tracking: If you are signed into a personal Google or YouTube account while browsing our website, Google may automatically associate your video viewing activity on our site directly with your personal profile and account history. We do not have access to or control over this cross-platform data linking.
- Privacy-Enhanced Mode: To protect your data, we make reasonable efforts to embed all YouTube videos using YouTube's Privacy-Enhanced Mode (youtube-nocookie.com). This technology prevents YouTube from placing tracking cookies on your device until you actively click the play button on the video player.*
- Your Choices: You can prevent Google from linking your viewing habits to your personal account by logging out of your Google or YouTube account before playing videos on our website. You can also block video advertising tracking cookies by rejecting marketing cookies on our website's Cookie Consent Banner.

In summary, New World Communications LLC is not responsible for the decision(s) and/or selection(s) made by any individual, organization, or business entity when accessing this website and its content, nor for providing specific information/services delivered in good faith.

Applicable National and International Laws

NWC, LLC information/services and products are offered and delivered "with all faults" or "as is", in accordance with the United States Uniform Commercial Code \(UCC\) and the UCC Implied Warranty of Merchantability.
